

Ben Sauter, #FinTech2017 speaker, discusses the impact of fintech on the legal industry. He notes that fintech is not just a buzzword but a real force that is changing the way we do business. He also mentions that fintech is creating new opportunities for lawyers to provide services to their clients.

Ben Sauter, #FinTech2017 speaker discusses the impact of fintech on the legal industry.

2017 05 3

Ben Sauter, a partner at Kobre & Kim, discussed the impact of fintech on the legal industry at the #FinTech2017 conference. He noted that fintech is not just a buzzword but a real force that is changing the way we do business. He also mentioned that fintech is creating new opportunities for lawyers to provide services to their clients. "Fintech is not just a buzzword but a real force that is changing the way we do business," he said. "It is creating new opportunities for lawyers to provide services to their clients."