Kobre & Kim Receives China Business Law Award for Anti-Corruption Work

March 1, 2016

Kobre & Kim has been recognized as one of the leading firms in anti-corruption by the China Business Law Journal. Awarded annually, the China Business Law Awards recognize the most innovative and sophisticated legal work undertaken in China during the past year. The awards are based on nominations received from China-focused corporate counsel and legal professionals around the world.

“It is extremely gratifying to receive this award from such an important and influential media organization in the region,” said William McGovern, a former U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) lawyer from the firm’s Hong Kong office. “Our Asia team is honored to be recognized for its unique offerings in the region, including a highly skilled team of former federal prosecutors who are resident in Asia, fluent in local languages, and experienced in conducting seamless global investigations.”
